

Erin Tarica

Erin Tarica is the Founder and Executive Director of the Family Caregiver Center of New Mexico. Erin is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker with over twenty years of experience working in the field of aging, social services, and program development. As a caregiver for her mom and other family members, she understands the complexity, struggle, and beauty of providing care for people she loves. Her dream of building a nonprofit for family caregivers grew from these personal experiences and her career working with those who are ill, aging, dying, and bereaved. In her previous role, Erin was the Director of the Jewish Care Program, the Jewish social services for the state of New Mexico. She earned master's degrees in Social Work and Jewish Communal Service from University of Southern California and Hebrew Union College.
